

THE PARTNERSHIP AGREEMENT

TERMS AND DEFINITIONS

The Company - AI Financial Capital LTD - a legal entity that provides execution of conversion arbitrage transactions and ensures all the respective payments are settled pursuant to contracts, agreements and other documents it enters into with a Client.

A Client - an individual or a legal entity that carries out conversion arbitrage transactions with the Company via the quotes provided by the Company.

Active Client - an individual or a legal entity possessing a sub-account with the Company and carrying out at least 1 (one) conversion arbitrage transaction with the Company during a reporting period (month), having duration of more than 5 minutes and the difference between open and close prices of more than double spread value of the traded contract or at least 1 (one) trade on an Option type of account.

A Partner - an individual or a legal entity acting under the present Agreement on behalf of the Company.

A Sub-affiliate - an individual or a legal entity acting under the present Agreement and assigned to a Partner.

Conversion arbitrage transaction – a buy or sell transaction between the Company and the Client with the subject being a currency contract, a futures contract, a binary options contract or an index contract. The said transaction implies at least two opposite buy and sell operations of equal lot volume to be carried out.

Sub-account - special internal account a Client opens with the Company, used to keep records on mutual obligations of the Company and a Client arising from transactions carried out between the Client and the Company under the Client Agreement.

Base currency - currency, in which an account's balance, all other balances, commission fees and charges are denominated and calculated.

Open position – buy (sell) transaction not covered by the opposite sell (buy) transaction with a contract.

Floating Profit/Loss - floating (unrealized) profit (loss) from open positions calculated at current quote values.

The Company's business hours - the time interval within duration of a business week, in the course of which the Company's trading terminal enables trading standardized currency contracts and index contracts. The business hours are exclusive of weekends and holidays, times of temporary changes in the Company's internal procedures and times when provision of service to clients is unavailable due to technical difficulties. In these cases the Company is obliged to take all measures possible to notify the Client of the operation mode change and to enable a Client to eliminate resulting exchange risk.

Lot - a measurement unit of a transaction volume.

Guaranteed Lot – a trade volume which is applied to Limit orders and equals 0.9 of standard Lot. A Transaction - a complex of trading transactions involving funds conversion from a base currency to a quote currency and vice versa.

Balance - an amount remaining in a Client's sub-account after the last transaction within any given time period is closed.

Spread - the difference between a buy price and a sell price of a base currency at the same moment of time.

Storage (storage-swap) - a fee deducted from or added to a Client's sub-account for prolongation (transfer) of a trading position for another day.

Equity - a margin-backed part of a Client's sub-account inclusive of open positions, which relates to the Balance and Floating (Profit / Loss) by the following formula: $\text{Balance} + \text{Profit} + \text{Swap}$. These are funds in a Client's sub-account reduced by a current floating loss and increased by a current floating profit.

A Current market price - a current price, at which transactions with a particular contract (currency or index) are made in the interbank market or an exchange.

Margin - a security deposit necessary for maintaining open positions, which equals to 1% (with the leverage of 1: 100) of the total lot volume of the positions.

Free Margin - funds not used as a security deposit for maintaining open positions. It is calculated by the formula: $\text{Free Margin} = \text{Equity} - \text{Margin}$.

Margin Level - characteristic value indicating the state of a trading account. It is calculated by the formula: $\text{Margin Level} = \text{Equity} / \text{Margin}$.

Stop-out level - state of a sub-account involving open positions being forcedly closed by the Company at current quotes.

Margin Trading - conduct of currency contract-based and (or) index contract-based arbitrage transactions with positions volume exceeding the variance margin size by several times.

In/Out - an amount of funds deposited by clients with the deduction of amounts withdrawn without considering profit from profitable transactions made within a reporting period.

The terms and definitions provided above are valid within the framework of the present. Agreement, comprising all its annexes and amendments.

10.2. In order to enter into the present Agreement the Company should validate the Partnership agreement via the Private Office on the Company's website. Term of the present Agreement is 12 (twelve) months starting from the date it becomes valid. The present Agreement takes effect once it is validated by the Company.

10.3. In case provisions of the present Agreement are fulfilled, it is considered prolonged for an indefinite term.

10.4. Provisions of the present Agreement may be amended or supplemented by the Company on a unilateral basis with preliminary notification 5 (five) calendar days prior to a date the changes take effect and sent to the email address provided by the partner upon registration and become of effect starting from the moment of publication on the company's website.

10.5. Any of the Parties hereof has the right to withdraw from the present Agreement unilaterally and without judicial procedures, with preliminary notification of the other party no less than 5 (five) days prior to withdrawal.

10.6. The Company reserves the right to, having notified the Partner, unilaterally discontinue the effect of the present Agreement in case of sudden, unforeseen and atypical for Forex market circumstances, or circumstances that can cause considerable negative consequences for the Company and/or its Clients. In such cases the Company acts in accordance with its risk control policies.

10.7. The present Agreement may be terminated through legal proceedings upon request of one of the Parties, in case the other party repeatedly or grossly violates its commitments under the present Agreement, as well as in other cases provided by the applicable law.

10.8. The Company reserves the exclusive right to protect its legal interests and provide services, regardless of the activities or intentions of the Partners and Clients. In this regard, the Company will unilaterally assume all the necessary and reasonable measures towards specific Partners and the Clients attracted by them, who have used the provided services for dishonest purposes. The protection of the Company's interests may involve, among others, the following actions: (a) unilateral alteration of the Partner's commission amount for specific Clients attracted by them; (b) partial or full blocking of the access to respective Partner's accounts or Private Office; (c) immediate unilateral termination of the contractual relations with the Partner.

10.9 Other Rights and Obligations of the Company

In the event that Yokinbroker has reasonable grounds to suspect fraudulent activity in connection with a Client's account—including, but not limited to, deposits made by third parties, irregular transaction patterns, abuse of promotional or remuneration schemes (including CPA or affiliate programs), or connections to individuals, entities, or partners engaged in suspicious, fraudulent, or unlawful conduct—Yokinbroker reserves the right, at its sole discretion, to block, restrict, or withhold any funds held in the Client's account for a period of up to nine (9) months.

Such action may be taken as part of internal risk management procedures and in accordance with applicable anti-money laundering (AML) and counter-terrorism financing (CTF) regulations. The Client acknowledges and agrees that this measure may be implemented without prior notice and shall not give rise to any right of compensation or accrual of interest on the withheld funds during the review or investigation period. Yokinbroker shall not be held liable for any direct or indirect losses resulting from such action.
